

This is on your desk before you are.

Concierge reads your inbox overnight and leaves you one clear brief. Nothing to open, nothing to learn.

Your morning brief

TUE 24 JUNE

Three emails need you. A client chasing their quote, a supplier question, and a reply you owe from Friday.

Today. Site visit at 10:30, call with Murphy at 2. Nothing clashes.

Going cold. Two quotes you sent last week have had no reply. Drafts ready to chase.

Heads up. One invoice is nine days overdue.

Everything else was quiet.
Eleven newsletters and receipts set aside.

Your inbox eats the part of the day that should be yours. Concierge hands it back.

Set up for you

We set it up inside your own email and calendar. Nothing to install, nothing to learn.
- ii.

One morning brief

Everything that matters on a single page by morning. What needs you, what is coming, what to chase.
- iii.

Nothing falls through

Follow ups, deadlines and replies tracked. The thing you forgot is already on the brief.

HOW IT WORKS

- 1

We set it up

A short chat about your business, then we connect it to your inbox and calendar.
- 2

It works quietly

Each night it reads what came in and prepares your brief and your draft replies.
- 3

You stay in control

Nothing is ever sent without you. You glance, you approve, you carry on.

Discreet by design. It runs in your own accounts, your data stays yours, and it only ever drafts. You always hold the pen.
